

The Delaware Bounty Food Map Now Available

Hamden, NY – [August 26, 2025] – Cornell Cooperative Extension of Delaware County is pleased to announce that the Delaware Bounty Food Map, highlighting participating farms who sell direct to consumers, has been published and is now available.

The map highlights local farms, markets, CSAs, roadside stands, and other food access points across Delaware County. Copies are available at the CCE Delaware County office, many participating farms, local libraries, and other community gathering places.

The Delaware Bounty Food Map will also have a companion resource, coming soon, that will provide an interactive way to explore and connect with local food resources.

For more information, contact Cornell Cooperative Extension of Delaware County

