Garden to Table – Growing & Preserving Local Food

When your garden overflows with fresh produce and the farmers' market explodes into rows of brilliantly colored fruits and vegetables, it's time to join in the flavorful tradition of preserving good food. Plant a container of vegetables for your patio and learn how to freeze greens and can a jar of salsa from vegetables you can grow on your porch, patio or in your garden. Jeanne Darling and Amy VanAlstyne from Cornell Cooperative Extension in Delaware County will teach this class.
